

Australian Fireproof Cable Tray Manufacturers

AI Overview

Leading suppliers of fireproof cable trays in Australia include Ozstrut, EzyStrut, Trafalgar, Burndy, and Ferrotech Pacific, offering certified fire-rated solutions for industrial and commercial projects. Key Suppliers and Offerings Ozstrut provides fire-rated cable trays designed for critical circuits in commercial, industrial, and infrastructure projects. Their T3 Series supports both light and heavy-duty applications, ensuring fire protection, structural strength, and compliance with safety standards. The trays are modular, corrosion-resistant, and suitable for data centers, hospitals, and high-risk facilities, offering reliable circuit integrity during fire events (Ozstrut), . EzyStrut is an Australian pioneer in fire-rated cable support systems, offering over a thousand certified options and custom solutions. Their products are independently certified and designed to meet challenging project specifications, making them suitable for large-scale industrial and infrastructure installations (EzyStrut), . Trafalgar specializes in cable fireproofing systems that either mitigate flame spread along cables or maintain continuous operational circuit integrity for non-fire-rated cables exposed to fire. Their solutions enhance building safety, protect critical systems like alarms and communications, and comply with stringent fire safety regulations (Trafalgar), . Burndy Cable Support Systems offers a comprehensive range of fire-rated products, including steel components and sheet metal fabrication for cable management. Their catalog includes fire-rated trays suitable for commercial and industrial applications, providing durable and compliant solutions (Burndy), . Ferrotech Pacific supplies FRP (fiberglass-reinforced plastic) cable trays with fire-retardant resins. These trays are corrosion-resistant, non-conductive, UV-resistant, and meet stringent fire safety standards. They are ideal fo...
