

Fiber Optic Cable Metal Reinforcing Core Liner

Overview

An armored optical cable is a special optical cable with a protective stainless steel armor tube wrapped around the fiber core. The metal armor layer effectively protects the fiber core from animal biting, moisture corrosion and various external damages. This guide breaks down the five core components of a fiber optic cable — from the specification package to the actual installation considerations. ■ The Five Key Parts of a Fiber Optic Cable A fiber optic cable. The FRP (Fiber Reinforced Plastic) optical cable reinforcing core is a product that uses glass fiber as the reinforcing material and resin as the matrix, cured and extruded at a specific temperature. Experience reliable, high-speed data transmission with our Optical Fiber Cable, designed for stable and efficient connectivity across long distances.
