

How much does fiber optic cable cost for China Mobile China Telecom and China Unicom

AI Overview

China Mobile fiber optic cables are priced around RMB 54–60 per F-km/core-km, while China Unicom cables are available through bulk orders with prices varying by type and supplier. China Mobile Fiber Optic Cable Pricing Recent tender results for China Mobile's 2025/2026 loose-tube optical cable procurement show the following approximate prices: ZTT: RMB 54.80 per F-km (including VAT) for 19.1M F-km awarded Hengtong: RMB 53.94 per F-km for 15.3M F-km awarded YOFC and FiberHome: awarded 13.4M F-km and 11.5M F-km respectively, with prices slightly lower than ZTT and Hengtong. Historical data indicates that the average transaction price for China Mobile optical cables has risen to over RMB 60 per core-km, reflecting a 50% increase compared to previous years, largely due to higher material costs and increased procurement volumes. Prices include VAT, and tenders consider non-price factors such as production capacity, quality, and delivery reliability. China Unicom Fiber Optic Cable Pricing China Unicom cables are available for bulk purchase through platforms like Alibaba, offering a range of FTTH, indoor, outdoor, duct, and aerial cables. Prices are not standardized publicly and vary depending on: Cable type (FTTH drop, ADSS, armored, outdoor) Order volume and length Supplier and shipping terms (FOB Shenzhen/Shanghai or CIF) For accurate pricing, suppliers typically require a detailed RFQ (Request for Quotation) specifying cable type, quantity, and delivery requirements. Factory-direct purchases can reduce costs by eliminating distributor margins. Key Considerations VAT and shipping: China Mobile prices include VAT; China Unicom bulk orders may require separate shipping costs. Lead times: High global de...
