

Manufacturer of 4U Cold Aisle Integrated Container Racks

AI Overview

Delta Power Solutions is a key manufacturer offering containerized data center solutions with integrated cold aisle containment and rack systems. Delta Power Solutions provides containerized data center solutions designed for rapid deployment, modular scalability, and integrated cooling and power management, which include pre-configured racks suitable for cold aisle containment. Their solutions are highly integrated, combining UPS, power distribution, battery, cooling, and racks into a single containerized unit, making them ideal for edge computing or modular data center applications. The design supports hot and cold aisle containment to optimize energy efficiency and maintain effective IT equipment temperatures. Other manufacturers also provide complementary solutions: Vertiv offers aisle containment systems compatible with a variety of racks, including their VR Racks, and supports both slab and raised floor applications. Tate Global provides floor-mounted cold aisle containment systems with pre-assembled frames, airtight gaskets, and customizable panels for efficient cooling. AIRSEAL specializes in custom-built containment systems for data centers, including cold aisle and hot aisle solutions, with proprietary doors and panels for flexibility and energy efficiency. Panduit offers universal aisle containment systems with modular components, blanking panels, and mid-span supports to reinforce cold aisle containment. For a fully integrated containerized solution with 4U rack support and cold aisle containment, Delta Power Solutions is the most directly relevant manufacturer, while the other vendors provide modular containment systems that can be paired with standard racks to achieve similar functionality.
