

Manufacturers and Models of AC Display Cabinets

AI Overview

AC display cabinets and stands are available in wall-mounted, free-standing, tabletop, rotating, and shelving formats, produced by manufacturers like Donracks and various wholesale suppliers. Types of AC Display Cabinets

1. Wall-Mounted Display Stands

These are integrated into existing walls, ideal for small retail units or showrooms with limited space. They provide a professional presentation without occupying floor space and are suitable for compact AC models.

2. Free-Standing Display Stands

Portable units that can be moved and adjusted in height to accommodate different AC models, including window and portable units. They are commonly used in retail spaces where product displays change frequently.

3. Tabletop Display Stands

Placed on counters or tables, these are best for small AC units and accessories. They allow easy customer interaction and are suitable for stores with extensive countertop space.

4. Rotating Display Stands

Compact stands that rotate to showcase multiple AC units from different angles, attracting customer attention in narrow retail spaces.

5. Shelving and Modular Racks

Tall shelving units or modular racks can hold multiple AC units simultaneously. They are designed for large retail outlets with high stock turnover. Shelving can be open or sectioned by type, size, or brand for easy customer access.

Materials and Construction

AC display cabinets are typically made from metal, wood, or acrylic. Metal: Recommended for heavier AC units due to strength and durability. Wood: Offers a stylish, warm presentation for premium units. Acrylic: Lightweight and visually appealing, suitable for smaller units.

Notable Manufacturers and Models

1. Donracks Offers modular Split AC racks with standard dimensions:

height 2100 mm, length 914 mm, depth 675 mm. Fully adjustable steel construction suitable for different split AC models.
