

Price of Mesh Cable Tray Display Case

AI Overview

Mesh cable tray display cases typically range from $20 to $200 per section, depending on size, material, and supplier. Retail Pricing Grainger offers wire mesh cable trays suitable for data and communication cables, with prices varying by length and configuration. Standard straight sections and fittings are priced individually, generally starting around $50–$150 per tray section depending on size and material. McMaster-Carr provides a wide selection of wire mesh trays, with over 475 products in various sizes and styles. Prices for individual trays can range from $30 to $200, with same-day or next-day delivery options. Amazon sells smaller wire mesh tray covers and sections, such as the Kable Kontrol 2" wire mesh cable tray covers, priced around $20–$50 per piece, suitable for light-duty or display purposes. Wholesale and Bulk Pricing Alibaba lists CE-certified steel wire mesh cable trays with wholesale pricing. Bulk orders and custom sizes can significantly reduce the per-unit cost, with prices starting as low as $15–$40 per meter for industrial-grade trays, depending on quantity and customization. Factors Affecting Price Material: Zinc-plated steel, stainless steel, or powder-coated trays vary in cost. Size and Length: Longer or wider trays cost more. Accessories: Fittings, connectors, and covers add to the total price. Supplier and Shipping: Retail suppliers may charge more per unit, while bulk suppliers offer discounts for large orders. For a display case setup, smaller sections or pre-assembled kits from Amazon or Grainger may be most convenient, while industrial installations benefit from bulk orders via Alibaba or McMaster-Carr. Always check for shipping costs, warranty, and customization options when comparing prices.
