

Price quote from Swedish gigabit optical module manufacturer

AI Overview

To obtain a price quote for gigabit optical modules in Sweden, you should contact suppliers like Swedish Telecom Opto or Direktronik for a tailored offer based on your network requirements. Key Suppliers and Options Direktronik offers a wide range of SFP modules, including 1G LX SFPs suitable for distances up to 20 km on single-mode fiber. They provide modules for industrial applications with temperature tolerance from -40°C to 85°C , as well as specialized bidirectional (BiDi) and WDM transceivers. Pricing is typically provided upon request, depending on the module type, quantity, and delivery options. Swedish Telecom Opto specializes in high-performance optical modules and provides customized quotes factoring in stock availability, delivery timelines, and network specifications. They support 1/2/4/10G modules and higher-speed options, with quality testing and programming before shipment. You can request a quote by filling out their online form, uploading a part list, or describing your project.

Factors Affecting Price

Module Type and Speed: Standard 1G SFP modules are generally more affordable than 10G or higher-speed SFP+ and QSFP modules.

Distance and Fiber Type: Long-reach single-mode modules cost more than short-range multimode modules.

Volume and Vendor Relationship: Bulk orders or established business relationships can reduce unit cost.

Quality and Certification: Modules with industrial temperature ranges, enhanced diagnostics, or vendor-specific certifications may carry a premium.

How to Get a Quote

Identify the module type (e.g., 1G LX SFP, BiDi, WDM) and required distance. Contact suppliers like Direktronik or Swedish Telecom Opto via their websites or email. Provide your network requirements, quantity, and any special specifications. Request a formal quote including delivery, warranty, and support options. By following these steps, you can...
