

Russian steel cable tray manufacturer

AI Overview

DKC and EKA Group are among the leading Russian manufacturers of steel cable trays, offering high-quality, certified products for industrial and commercial applications. DKC Company Founded in 1998, DKC is one of the largest producers of cable support systems and low-voltage equipment in Russia and Europe . The company specializes in steel cable trays and related systems, using high-quality raw materials and advanced foreign equipment. DKC holds numerous patents for innovative products and participates in research and development programs in the electro-technical market. Their products comply with international quality standards, including ISO 9001, and the company maintains a strong distribution network across Russia, CIS countries, and Europe . EKA Group Established in 1997, EKA Group is another major Russian manufacturer of cable support systems . The company operates a modern, high-capacity production line with automated processes, producing cable trays from cold-rolled and galvanized steel sourced from leading Russian suppliers. EKA emphasizes quality control, providing certificates for metal upon request, and ensures compliance with industry standards through accredited certification authorities. Their products serve sectors such as petroleum, chemical, defense, and commercial facilities across Russia . EKA also offers logistics support for timely delivery and maintains flexibility in manufacturing to meet client-specific requirements. Product Features and Standards Both DKC and EKA produce steel cable trays suitable for heavy-duty industrial applications. Their products are designed for durability, corrosion resistance, and compliance with international standards. Typical features include: Hot-dip galvanized or pre-galvanized steel Stainless steel options for corrosive environments Modular designs for easy installation and expansion Certification for quality and safety compliance These manufacturers cater to a wide range of applications, including industrial plants, commercial buildings, da...
