AI Overview

FLUIDES SERVICES INDUSTRIE, SOMEF, and Electrica are leading Tunisian manufacturers and suppliers of electrical distribution boxes and related equipment. FLUIDES SERVICES INDUSTRIE offers a wide range of portable electrical distribution boxes designed for safe and durable connection of devices. Their products can be customized in size and color according to customer requirements, reflecting a focus on innovation and quality in electrical distribution solutions. The company emphasizes advanced technology and creative design in its offerings. SOMEF Founded in 1988, SOMEF designs and manufactures electrical equipment for both domestic and professional use. They provide a variety of electrical distribution and control systems, including solutions for residential, commercial, and hotel installations. SOMEF products comply with European and international standards (CE, NF, IEC, ISO) and the company holds ISO 9001, ISO 14001, and ISO 45001 certifications. They also integrate smart home and IoT solutions, offering advanced automation and energy management systems. Electrica Electrica, established in 1998, specializes in the distribution of electrical materials and has partnerships with international brands like General Electric and ABB. They provide a complete range of electrical solutions, including power circuit breakers, industrial network management, and low-voltage electrical equipment. Electrica focuses on delivering reliable and high-quality products for various sectors, ensuring robust infrastructure and tailored installations. Additional Resources For broader options, Sheet Metal Factory lists multiple Tunisian manufacturers of electrical enclosures and distribution boxes, offering custom design and processing services for electrical cabinets and boxes.
